

June 2011

Since April 1 2006, have you incurred

1. any legal costs relating to the resignation, removal, suspension or sacking of any executive board member

Yes

Our legal costs were £1,542.18 including VAT paid in 2006/07 financial year.

2. any legal costs relating to disciplinary actions against any executive board member, or investigations or enquiries into their behaviour or actions (other than ones where they were peripherally involved e.g. giving evidence against other members of staff)

No

3. any legal costs relating to employment tribunal or court proceedings (or preparation for proposed actions) brought by a former executive board member.

No

If you have incurred such costs, please provide a breakdown for each question according to financial year. Please include costs which you have incurred but which may have been met by another party (such as the Department of Health)

Please note I am not asking for details of the individuals involved, unless you feel able to specify these. By executive board member, I mean a paid employee of your organisation who sits or sat on your board, not non-executive directors. Legal costs include both advice and representation. Please include costs incurred by any predecessor organisation, where appropriate.
